Road Travel

ASIRT Education Abroad Membership Program members have the opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to road-safe travel and access educational resources and programming.

Membership Benefits

Access to Road Travel Reports: ASIRT's country reports on more than 100 countries describe general road conditions; frequent road crash sites; national road safety statistics; driver behaviors; driving regulations; urban, rural, night, and seasonal travel precautions; pedestrian, passenger and cycle safety tips; quality and availability of emergency medical care, emergency procedures and contact information. Membership gives you an annual license to download reports for your travelers.

Global Road Safety Toolbox: A comprehensive set of checklists of road safety precautions that provide professionals with useful guidelines to plan road safe itineraries and programs, train on and off-site faculty and prepare students to make safe, informed choices while studying abroad. User-friendly guidelines for program administrators help ensure that vehicles and drivers meet safety standards and enable students to make safe choices as pedestrians and passengers on buses, taxis and private vehicles.

Speak Up for Safety Cards: Wallet-sized cards that include important road safety phrases in Chinese, Farsi, French, Russian, Spanish and Turkish.

Sample Press Release: Inform students, families, faculty and administrators of your commitment to keeping travelers safe on the roads. Can be used in conjunction with the ASIRT logo on your website.

Powerpoint: Introduce students to road safety concepts with ASIRT's brief PowerPoint, which can be integrated easily into your existing predeparture presentations.

Student Ambassador Opportunities: ASIRT offers several opportunities for student travelers including writing a blog series or publication on the ASIRT website, interning at the ASIRT office outside of Washington, DC, participating in Capitol Hill and public health efforts and reviewing ASIRT resources by facilitating or participating in student focus groups.
